$69 Million Dip in Crop Values in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The value of crops produced by Arkansas farmers this year was $9. million dollars less than that of last year, the Department of Agriculture reported today.

The department said Arkansas crop values, based on final production estimates and average prices received, were worth $389,542,000 in 1957 compared to $458,542,000 in 1956. Figures were not given on the value of livestock and livestock products.

The decrease, in part at least, was another reflection of the damage to crops in Arkansas this year as a result of freeze, floods and other unfavorable weather conditions.

Earlier reports had shown a decrease in production totals for nearly all major crops except soybeans, which reached a new high.

Although the crop value total was about 15 per cent under last year's, it was two per cent above the 1949-55 average, the Crop Reporting Service said.

Major Arkansas money crop, as always, was cotton. Its value was $189,178,000 or 48 per cent of the total. Value of the 1956 cotton crop was $250,611,000.

Soybeans ranked second with a value of $66,623,000, an increase over last year's figure of $58,942,000.

Rice was third. Its value was $24,000 in 1956. Hay and corn were fourth and fifth, but far below the three leaders.

Frank Given Sentence of Eight Months

WASHINGTON, D. C. — John Joseph Frank today was sentenced to serve from eight months to two years in jail for acting illegally as an agent of Gen.issimo Rafael Trujillo and the Dominican Republic.

The sentence was imposed by Federal Dist. Judge James R. Kirkland.

The judge turned down a plea by Frank's attorney, Edward L. Perry, that Frank be given a suspended sentence and placed on probation.

The sentence is far short of the maximum Kirkland could have imposed.

William H. Huntley, a Justice Department attorney, had asked for a "stiff sentence" and told Judge Kirkland that he spoke for the Justice Department.

Each of the four counts of the indictment against Frank could carry as much as five years in prison plus a $10,000 fine.

But Kirkland, remarking that Frank and his wife have "accumulated very little," said he would not impose any fine.

Kirkland imposed a sentence of eight months to two years on each of the four counts, but stipulated that they be served concurrently.

PARIS, France — The 15-nation NATO summit conference today offered Moscow a foreign ministers' meeting on disarmament and formally accepted President Eisenhower's offer of ballistic missiles and nuclear warheads for arming Western Europe.

The heads of government said NATO allies cannot accept the Soviet idea that Russia should have a monopoly on nuclear weapons and missiles in Europe.

These key decisions, announced in a 3,500-word communiqué, wound up NATO's four-day conference.

President Eisenhower said the results should make war less likely, peace more sure.

Secretary of State Dulles said the conference had gone a long way toward accepting a strategy of victory over Soviet threats.

The final communiqué worked out in a session of almost three hours put the blame on Russia for the need to bring West Europe's defenses into the age of push-button warfare.

"In the Soviet view," the communiqué said, "all European nations except the U.S.S.R. should, without waiting for general disarmament, renounce nuclear weapons and missiles and rely on arms of the preatomic age."

But Russia itself is arming with the most modern and destructive weapons so NATO decided there was no alternative but to remain vigilant and to look to defenses.

The NATO chiefs said they regret and deplore Russia's tactics, of boycotting a newly created 25-nation U.N. commission on disarmament. They called on Russia to resume cooperation with the United Nations in this field, but offered a foreign ministers' meeting to resolve the deadlock.

This represented an American concession to European fears of atomic war, and demands for East-West talks.

The summit leaders called on the Soviet Union anew to fulfill its commitment to permit the unification of divided Germany through free elections.

"Soviet leaders have made it clear that the most modern and destructive weapons of all kinds are being introduced as a means of dividing Germany," the communiqué said.

ATLAS AWAY — In a billow of smoke, the Atlas ICBM is successfully launched at Cape Canaveral, Fla. It was the first successful trial of the two-million dollar rocket. In Washington, testimony before a Senate hearing on the U. S. missile lag indicated that the Atlas was sent up without its nose cone. The statement of Maj. Gen. B. A. Schriever, USAF ballistic missile chief, before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, indicated the major problem connected with the cone is to prevent it from burning up when it reenters the earth's atmosphere. — NEA Telephoto

Dulles Feels Meet Turned Soviet Threat

PARIS, France — Secretary of State Dulles declared today the historic NATO summit conference had gone a long way to accept a strategy of victory over the Soviet threat.

He said the strategy of victory decided upon was two-fold — taking account of the formidable strength of the Russians, and exploiting the weakness of those arrayed against us.

Dulles said he believed the West's newly forged policy could be successful "without turning into a highly regimented society."

Dulles spoke at a joint luncheon of the French Assn. for the Atlantic Community and the French-United States Assn.

He said that if the United States devoted as much as Russia of its gross national product to military ends — 120 billion dollars instead of 40 — "we could very quickly overcome our inferior position."

But, he added, the United States would run the risk of becoming as regimented as Russia.

"By working together," Dulles said, "our combined strength can readily be made to meet the Russian strength without losing our freedom."

Seale Sales in County Amount to $1,088

The Hempstead County TB Association reports that a total of $1,088.25 has been received to date from the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale. This total is above that at the same time last year. From all over the county 608 persons have made this gratifying report.

Chas. Reynerson, chairman, reminds everyone that Christmas Seals fight tuberculosis. Arkansas is 5th in the nation in the death rate from TB, and Hempstead County is 4th highest in the state, in incidence of TB. Mr. Reynerson feels that there are many who intend to assist with this campaign but have forgotten to send in their contribution. He hopes they will both buy and use their 1957 Christmas Seals.

Benson Wants No Part of Marginal Land

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he does not want anything to do with efforts to move marginal farmers off the land.

He told a news conference yesterday that evidence in the form of agricultural overproduction indicates there are too many people and too much capital in farming.

The secretary had been told by a newsman that some people were saying he was making a wrong attack on the farm problem. Those critics were said to have stated he should be moving surplus farmers off the farm rather than moving surplus products off farms.

"I am not one," he said, "who believes that the government should say whether there are too many or too few farmers or say who should leave the farm if there are too many. That is a decision for the individual farmer himself to make in our free society."

Tornado Strikes Near Magnolia, One Killed, Three Persons Injured

Tornado Death Toll in 2 States Reaches Eleven

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — Another body was found in ruins today, bringing to 11 the death toll from unseasonal tornadoes which tore through Southern Illinois and Missouri.

The vicious twisters which struck late yesterday left a high toll of injuries and destruction. The big cleanup job started today.

Ten fatalities were reported in this Illinois area and another in Missouri. More than 100 persons were hurt, at least 80 of them in Murphysboro and Mount Vernon, Ill.

Scores of homes were flattened. Unofficial estimates put property damage in the millions of dollars. Destruction was greatest in Mount Vernon. Between 75 and 100 homes were destroyed or badly damaged in Mount Vernon.

Murphysboro had the greatest human misery.

Here nine persons died — the ninth victim was as yet unidentified today — and workers dug through debris in search of others. At least 35 persons were hospitalized; and 36 homes were destroyed, 15 by fires which followed the winds.

In addition, nearly a score of other towns reported injuries or damage by the violent late autumn weather.

The tornado which struck Murphysboro shortly before 5 p.m. was described by a journalism professor as a giant fist smothering.

PRICELESS PRESENT? — A Miami, Fla., grandmother who couldn't afford a Christmas present for her 10-year-old grandson, Michael Bender, may have presented him with a priceless Stradivarius violin which he found in her attic under a pile of junk. Though the strings are broken, and its sides cracked in spots, a close examination showed the date 1721 and a Stradivarius label on the inside of the instrument, indicating the instrument may have been made by master craftsman Antonius Stradivarius. Violin authorities are checking the instrument. — NEA Telephoto

Food Makes This Man Tearful

ATLANTA, Ga. — Instead of making his mouth water, the sight of food brings tears to 61-year-old David Daugherty.

His tear glands dried up two years ago, leaving him nearly blind. Doctors, in a rare operation, hooked up one of the salivary glands to pump lubricating fluid to Daugherty's right eye.

Salivary glands are those ducts provided by nature to make the mouth water.

"Now I see some better in my right eye," the Negro said, "except when I look at food. Then the tears start running down my face."

Doctors at Grady Memorial Hospital termed the operation a success. They said a similar operation will be performed on the other eye.

Smart Oil Field Area Reportedly Hit by Storm

WALDO, Ark. (AP) — A tornado struck a rural community about 5 miles Northwest of Magnolia about 12:40 p.m. today killing at least one and injuring "three or four", Magnolia police said.

The twister knifed through the Cotton Belt community, a small all-Negro settlement. Two ambulances were dispatched from Magnolia.

Another storm, not described as a tornado, struck the Smart oil field in the vicinity about the same time. One ambulance was sent there, although no details of injuries or damage were available.

Extensive damage was caused by high winds in Hope today. Some wires were blown down, Oklahoma Tire and Supply Co. lost a sign and J. C. Penney Co. and a window blown out. Hope Water and Light plant's boiler room roof was peeled back several feet. Extent of damage there could not be immediately determined.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — A 140-mile wide belt running diagonally across Arkansas from southwest to northeast was put under a tornado alert today.

Parts of nearby states also were included. The danger period is scheduled to expire at 8 p.m.

Race Trouble Hits St. Louis High School

ST. LOUIS (AP)—About 50 white pupils refused to attend classes at Central High School today as a result of a dispute between two girls at the school, one white and the other Negro.

Some of the students walked out of the school and others refused to enter. They congregated across a street and jeered and called to the pupils inside.

Six carloads of police went to the scene and dispersed the pupils, who had rejected appeals by principal A. B. Jordan and other pupils to enter the school.

There was no disturbance inside the school, which has an enrollment of 1,300, and classes continued as usual.

Integration of St. Louis public schools began a month after the 1954 Supreme Court decision against segregation and was completed a year later with only a few minor problems. The success of the integration program in this border city won national attention.

Jordan said the dispute yesterday between a white sophomore girl and a Negro freshman girl concerned ownership of a sweater. An

Next to Cast Clothes Cost the Most in 'Designing Woman'

The fashion industry spends twenty-five million dollars or more a year to keep the little woman happy. So does Hollywood. At M-G-M they are frank to admit that their comedy, "Designing Woman," is a deliberate attempt to please feminine fans—all 54 million of them.

The bail, according to George

When Lauren Bacall bites a man's ear, it means she's in love. In the case of M-G-M's "Designing Woman" the man she loves is Gregory Peck, who is obviously enjoying her affection. Dolores Gray co-stars in the hilarious romantic comedy.

Wells, the film's author and associate producer, is based on practical masculine reasoning: "Give the little woman something new to wear."

As a result, for the first time in the history of the studio a clothes budget outweighs every other cost, with the exception of its stellar cast, topped by Gregory Peck, Lauren Bacall and Dolores Gray.

"There isn't a woman in the world who doesn't enjoy beautiful clothes," says Wells, "nor a man who doesn't enjoy seeing her in them."

"Designing Woman," a boudoir boxing match, is about a sports writer who cleans up a gang of hoodlums, falls in love with a fashion designer and learns that headlines can be made on the feminine as well as sports world front.

"This picture is designed to woo women into the theater," Wells reiterates. "Surveys show that today's audiences, which were formerly predominantly feminine, are now sixty per cent masculine. When women stay away, so do their husbands. This makes us unhappy. 'Designing Woman' is out to stop this. We do it with action, romance and clothes—dozens of them, including tea gowns, ball gowns, nightgowns, suits, coats, hats, dresses, sweaters, swim suits, shorts and leotards. In taking care of the ladies, we take no chance on losing the men."

Incidentally, if the men want to know where their money goes, "Designing Woman" has the answer.

"It goes right into the little black dress that uncovers your wife," laughs Wells, who learned about clothes from M-G-M's designer Helen Rose. "As a matter of fact," says Wells, "Miss Rose suggested the idea for the story and the title."

In the comedy, a fashion show of ball gowns, modeled by a sextette of six-foot beauties, plays an important part in the motivation of the plot. These gowns are in addition to the 84 costumes worn by Miss Bacall and Miss Gray.

In the fashion show, Miss Rose has gowns tagged with such flamboyant names as "Romance" (emerald green velvet), "Switchery" (coral satin), "Envy" (cherry silk), "Dramarama" (faux silk), "Sorcery" (white evening coat) and "Rendezvous" (a pink velvet ball gown).

"Designing Woman" opens Sunday at the Saenger theater.

Sputnik Makes Dictionary Fast

NEW YORK (AP)—Sputnik has orbited into an American dictionary in record time.

"Some new words take years to get into the language," reports Clarence L. Barnhart, editor of a lexicon which includes the word in a just-issued edition.

"Sputnik made the grade overnight. She's a record-breaking word."

Barnhart gave the definition: "Sputnik—an earth satellite."

altercation followed and the white girl suffered minor scratches on the face.

The principal visited the mother of the white girl, he said, and told her to keep the girl away from school until authorities decided what action to take. The Negro girl was told not to return until her father could accompany her for a talk with school officials.

The students who refused to attend classes got the idea the white girl would be compelled to transfer to another school and that the return, Jordan said. The principal explained this was not the case.

"I think they believed me, but they still would not come back in school," Jordan said.

An official of the school said no records were kept as to the race of the students, but that more than half of those enrolled are white.

British Ship Limp Toward Honolulu

HONOLULU (AP)—The British freighter Wear Breze, listing 12 degrees because of shifting cargo, raced today in moderate seas toward Hawaii, 1,000 miles to the southwest.

The 447-foot freighter carries a crew of 44. David Clark is its skipper.

Saturday, part of the 8,100-ton cargo of lumber shifted in bad weather.

Some 220 tons of the cargo has been jettisoned.

The ship's condition was reported improving until a lurch into a 16-degree list at noon yesterday. In midafternoon the Wear Breze said the list was back to 12 degrees.

The Coast Guard cutter Klamath hurried to the assistance of the freighter from ocean station November, midway between here and the California coast.

British Purchase 200 U. S. Movies

LONDON (AP)—The British Broadcasting Co. announced today it has paid $602,000 for 100 movies in the library of Hollywood's RKO studios.

It said it was the biggest deal of its kind in the history of British TV. The movies range from such prewar productions as the Fred Astaire - Ginger Rogers musicals to films made in 1955.

Bids Taken on UA Woman's Dormitory

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Dec. 18 (AP)—Dickman - Pickens-Bond Construction Co. of Little Rock today submitted an apparent low bid of $1,585,180 for building of a women's housing facility on the University of Arkansas campus here.

The building would accommodate 400 women students.

The bids will be reviewed by the university Board of Trustees Jan. 4.

The construction is to be completed in 585 calendar days after award of a contract.

Pine Bluff Seeks Vote on Bennett Law

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Petitions were filed yesterday to refer the "Bennett ordinance," recently adopted by the Pine Bluff City Council, to a special election. The action blocked enforcement of the measure which was scheduled to become effective today.

The ordinance would require certain organizations to file membership, financial and other information on demand. It was recommended by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, primarily to curtail the activities of the National Association of the Advancement of Colored People.

City Atty. Wilton Steed said today the petitions, containing 91 signatures and filed by Negro attorney Wiley Branton, would hold the ordinance in abeyance pending the outcome of a popular vote. About 35 signatures were required to force the referendum.

The ordinance was adopted by the City Council Nov. 18 but would not have become effective until today because failure of an emergency clause to pass, Steed said. Mayor Otis Lites said the Bennett ordinance probably will appear on a ballot which also will contain referral of a controversial subdivision ordinance and a proposed $75,000 to $100,000 bond issue to finance purchase of firefighting equipment.

The mayor has not set a date for the special election.

Similar ordinances requiring organizations to disclose data have been adopted by a number of Arkansas cities. The NAA is contesting in the courts such measures adopted by the Little Rock and North Little Rock City Councils.

James L. C. Ford, of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, said as he watched the black funnel-shaped cloud form, "there came a roaring like an express train."

"There was no panic. People were numb, standing around shaking their heads. It looks like this will be a pretty sad Christmas for our folks."

Meet to Help Peace, Ike Declares

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the decisions of the NATO summit conference should make war less likely, peace more sure.

In a statement issued as he made ready to fly back to Washington, the President said:

"I leave with mixed regret and gladness. 'I regret that I could not have stayed longer in this land of many of my warmest memories and friendships, and that I could not have spent a longer time with my associates of the NATO partnership.'

"But I am happy that our work here has been conducted frankly in friendship and cooperation. Our unity of effort and purpose has been strengthened. The decisions on disarmament far-reaching results, and should make war less likely, peace more sure."

"Now we must carry forward the results of our deliberations here. I return home confident that the American people, like the people of all NATO nations, will endorse and support the decisions made here for a stronger North Atlantic Alliance."

"Goodbye. See you again."

The President's schedule calls for landing at Washington about 6:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said the state of Eisenhower's health at the end of the four-day NATO conference is fine. Press secretary James Hagerly said Snyder told him that everything is fine with the President—"nothing out of the ordinary, everything normal, except that he still is under medical supervision and has not been medically discharged."

After the NATO conference concluded, Eisenhower returned to the American Embassy residence and had a quiet lunch with his son, Army Maj. John Eisenhower. Then he got in a nap.

Palomar Nearly Hit by Plane, 3 Airmen Die

PALOMAR MOUNTAIN, Calif. (AP)—A fiery bomber crash in fog about a quarter-mile from the 200-inch world's biggest telescope has left three Air Force officers dead. The six-engine B-47 Stratofortress plowed into this 6,000-foot peak yesterday while returning to March Air Force Base, 50 miles to the north, from a training flight.

Flames shot 100 feet high and live ammunition went off, an observatory official said.

Flying debris nicked the dome of a smaller telescope, the 48-inch Schmidt.

The victims all lived at River-side. The Air Force gave their names and home towns as: Maj. Tim Esmond, Austin, Tex., the plane's commander, of 15th Air Force headquarters, March AFB; Col. Frank W. Ellis, Covington, Ky., the pilot, 15th Air Force director of operations; and Capt. Frank Hargrave, Alameda, Calif., flight surgeon, stationed with the 22nd Tactical Hospital, March AFB.

The plane came to rest in a pile of boulders 30 feet from the observatory power house. In that structure were Harley Marshall, observatory office manager; his son Bill; and two other men.

"The building shook like an earthquake had hit it," Marshall said. Then we heard an explosion, and the whole place seemed engulfed in flames. They were at least 100 feet high. Live ammunition began going off, so we ducked down for a while. Nine of approximately 30 persons at the observatory, including wives and children of some personnel, were injured.

DOROTHY DIX

Watch Your Choice, Girl — I'm Betting on Fiance

Dear Dorothy Dix: For the past 15 months Paul and I have gone together. He's a fine young man, and I love him dearly. We plan to become engaged in the spring, and be married this fall.

After graduation last June, I went to work for a bank and met one particular man with a wonderful personality. He asked me out, and for some unknown reason, I accepted. He did considerable probing into my private life. I told him about Paul and he, in turn, declared his love for me. He cast some kind of spell over me. I guess because I went out with him several times after that. Now I don't know where I'm at. If I love my steady as I'm convinced I do, why do I enjoy this other man's company and love him when he's not around? How can I be absolutely sure that what I feel for Paul is really love?

AUDREY

Dear Audrey: You aren't the first girl who has yearned for a fool proof system of testing her love, but one doesn't exist. You must use your own brain power, common sense, and judgment. That's what God gave them to you for.

You might consider the fact that you really don't know too much about your office bent. He has probed quite deeply into your personal life; but has he responded with confidence about his own? You know him only on office grounds, and as an occasional special date. You've had a chance to estimate your fiance under ordinary circumstances. Paul has stood the test of time; the other man is, as yet, only a glamorous, romantic interlude. By this time, you've probably gathered that I place my bet on Paul, but only you, Audrey, can make the final decision.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband works out of town, coming home about once a month. He gives me half his money, and drinks the other half. When he's drunk he beats me, breaks furniture and gets pretty violent altogether. Our nine children are married. I DA

Dear Ida: Among nine children isn't there one who can give you a sober home? Maybe if you'd move to the town where your husband works, he wouldn't have so much time and money on his hands, and would ease up on the liquor. Give it a try: If it doesn't work, ask help from the children.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I love Vern on very much, but he won't tell me he loves me except in a joking way. How can I get him to be serious?

Dear Laura: Be patient. He's undoubtedly kidding around until he learns your feelings for him. Men often are so afraid to be hurt that they adopt this system of jesting.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have two very nice girl friends, but they most definitely dislike each other. We can't do anything as a trio because they are so jealous of each other.

Dear Nancy: A trio is a most difficult group to manage at any time. Can't you find another girl friend to make it a quartette; thus opening the way for group activity? The present setup will never work; it's either double or nothing.

Talked Out of Jumping From a TV Tower

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—A young grocery clerk, despondent over the death of his son, climbed high up a television tower and started shouting "I'm jumping" to a large crowd of onlookers early today.

George Monroe Davis, 22, threatened to jump off the 1,042-foot KCMO-TV tower, but after two hours of steady talking, Police Maj. William Canaday coaxed him to the ground. Davis was jailed for investigation.

Canaday said Davis was spotted shortly after midnight about 350 feet up the tower by a policeman who investigated reports of gun fire in the neighborhood. He said Davis was armed with a .22-caliber revolver, and had fired eight shots—all into the air. One live cartridge was in the gun when Davis surrendered.

Canaday climbed to the top of a five-truck aerial ladder and talked to Davis with a portable loudspeaker. Davis came down at 2:15 a.m.

The major said Davis had been despondent since the death of his 2-year-old son two months ago. Members of the family told officers that Davis often visited the child's grave as much as four times daily.

sharply in price for two weeks, moved irregularly this week—up 2 to 4 cents in some areas and down 3 to 8 cents in others. Increased consumption around the holiday is expected to drive prices higher for the next few weeks, however.

The severe freeze in Florida, plus an embargo on shipments of fruit slapped on as a safety measure, sharply curtailed the available supplies of fruit. Housewives understandably like to buy more fruit than usual because of the holiday. Result of the twin pressures? Higher prices.

Tangerines and temple oranges were the hardest hit of the citrus fruits, although grapefruit and other varieties or oranges also were damaged by the freeze. California oranges also were reported higher in price this week, although lemons still are a good buy.

Avocados, considered a Christmas delicacy in some quarters, are a good buy—as are lemons, which have been plentiful for some time. Apples from nearby fields are about the best buy among the fruits.

Good buys among vegetables are onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes and cabbage. Celery and carrots are no better than moderately priced, while iceberg lettuce, peppers and cauliflower are on the high side of a good buy.

These doom-criers with the statement that his railroad has no intention of going out of the passenger business and more new equipment is on order.

The main reason I feel that the iron horse won't go the way of the stagecoach or the Mississippi River steamboat—that is, in its role as a passenger carrier—is because it really hasn't been outmoded.

The airplane, as a means of travel, is fast losing its original glamor and becoming just another efficient means of mass transportation.

You can't beat it if you have to make a long journey in a hurry. You get there faster, but you're tired on the way, and you arrive weary. You don't have much to do but wonder what you are doing way up there in cloudland, higher even than an eagle flies. You have a deepdown uneasy feeling that only an angel belongs up there, and you know you're no angel.

But many times there is more to a trip than merely getting from one place to another. There is the excitement of going, the thrill of seeing new things along the way.

That is why the train, far from losing its glamor, is regaining it. It teaches you as you travel. You feel and see the changes as you

Ozark Businessman Dies in Accident

VAN BUREN, Ark.—James Claude Wakefield, 48-year-old Ozark businessman, was killed late last night when his automobile overturned on a curve about 10 miles east of here.

State Trooper Ed Blackard said Wakefield was thrown from the car and pinned beneath the wreckage. The accident occurred on U.S. Highway 64 a quarter mile west of Dyer.

Wakefield was associated with the Wakefield Co. mercantile store at Ozark. In 1956 he won the first annual muzzle-loading shooting contest at Berryville.

It came to me that I hadn't really felt the impact of my native land in quite this mystic way for a long, long time, and as the wheels of the iron horse went clickety-click on the steel rails I had a grateful feeling.

Turkey prices about the same as last year and higher prices for citrus fruits and some vegetables due to last week's big Florida freeze, faced housewives today as they shopped for Christmas dinner.

ABOVE THE KREMLIN—A more familiar sight in countless pictures made from ground level, the Kremlin of Moscow loses some of its grim aspect when viewed from above. This shot, taken from the nearby Moskva Hotel, leaps over the massive walls to capture the sprawling headquarters of the Russian government. ## Santa to Visit Wall Street—Pack Lighter

NEW YORK (AP)—Santa Claus is coming back to Wall Street this year but his pack won't be as heavy.

Many firms will distribute the traditional Christmas bonus but a majority admit it will be smaller than last year. The Street has been having its woes throughout 1957.

In fact, a trend toward getting away from the whole idea of the boss playing Kris Kringle is growing in the financial district.

Some of the biggest brokerage houses have set up other plans, not related to yuletide, for sharing the profit with employees.

The big one with the big name—Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner, & Bence—stopped paying a Christmas bonus in 1955 when the firm's fiscal year was changed to end on Feb. 28. A bonus is paid in the spring.

A recruit to this idea this year is Bache Co., another big house. Their fiscal year has been changed to end on Jan. 31 and a distribution will be made after that date. Previously, Bache has paid a bonus at Christmas.

Harris, Upham Co. has a profit-sharing plan under which employees get a percentage of the profits after the end of the fiscal year, which ends Aug. 31. Says a partner: "It's not how the boss feels the week before Christmas that determines the payment."

The really lush Christmas in Wall Street came in 1955. That was the year of the biggest volume on the stock exchange since the end of World War II. Some of the smaller houses reportedly paid out a year's salary to some fortunate employees.

Last year payments generally were cut back as volume sank to 556,284,172 shares from 609,602,291 shares in 1955. (The 1955 volume was the largest since 1933.)

There's never been any competition in bonuses but Street habits are on how much money goes out sure it runs into the millions. Some of the larger houses with branches around the country are believed to distribute a million or more themselves.

Narcotic Peddlers May Get Death

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—A Louisiana legislative committee is drafting a measure to provide the death penalty for sale of narcotics to minors.

Rep. Richard Bertrand of Lafayette, chairman of the Joint Committee on Narcotics, said his group probably would meet shortly after the holidays to study information received from district attorneys over the state on narcotics convictions.

Under the proposed legislation, which will be introduced in the Legislature next May, the jury could find the accused guilty with the death penalty or guilty without death.

If no death penalty applied, the judge must then sentence the offender to 30 to 90 days in the state penitentiary. As in all other violations, he would not be eligible for sentence suspension, probation or parole.

Arkansas Crop Production Slumps

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Production on Arkansas farms slumped this year principally because of unfavorable weather the final U.S. Department of Agriculture report showed yesterday.

The rice crop was estimated at 11,039,000 hundredweight against 12,224,000 last year. Corn fell from 18,090,000 last year to 13,822,000 for 1957.

The peach crop was reduced by a half of its 2,250,000 bushels of last year.

Only soybeans showed an increase to 32,500,000 bushels from 27,162,000 last year.

Cotton was covered in a separate report but it too was greatly decreased from the previous year.

able for sentence suspension, probation or parole.

Faubus Willing to Set 'Carver Day'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Negro woman said yesterday Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas is willing to proclaim Jan. 5 as "George Washington Carver Day" at her request.

Dr. Alma Ilery said that as founder of the National Achievement Club she has written governors of all states asking them to honor the late Negro scientist.

Thus far only 20 favorable replies have been received—including that of Gov. Faubus.

Dr. Ilery said Gov. Faubus' reply said "your letter of some months ago only recently came to my attention. Apparently it was misplaced during our recent controversy when we were receiving lots of mail every day. I will be happy to proclaim Jan. 5 as George Washington Carver Day if you will send me a sample proclamation."

Iran Quake Death Toll Is 1,180

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The death toll from the devastating earthquake which struck western Iran last Wednesday rose to 1,180 today as Farsang village counted 830 dead from a total population of 1,800.

A radio reporter accompanying Premier Manouchehr Eghbal and two cabinet ministers on a tour of the quake area, disclosed the toll.

Surviving villagers believe still more people are trapped in the rubble.

Billboards on outside streets, roads and plazas are banned in Denmark. Such signs are permitted only on premises of a business.

More Production Lowers Futures

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Prospects of larger than expected wheat and corn crops resulted in lower futures prices on the Board of Trade today.

All corn deliveries and the deferred July and September wheat contracts declined to new lows for the season during the session. Liquidation of wheat and corn futures spread to other grains, carrying most oats contracts and the July and September rye deliveries to new lows along with wheat and corn.

Most futures recovered part of extreme losses on profit-taking and short-covering around the close.

The principal factor in the downturn was a bullish government crop report which placed total production of 1957 corn at 3,403,000,000 bushels, around 60 million bushels more than was estimated a month ago.

Wheat production was estimated at 947 million bushels, up about 20 million bushels from an earlier government forecast.

Bulgarian Returns French Request

PARIS (AP)—A letter addressed to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin in from a French peasant wanting a new roof was delivered today to the Palais de Chaillot where the heads of 15 NATO nations are meeting.

A telegram to Bulganin was delivered there yesterday.

They were sent apparently in the mistaken belief Bulganin is sitting in with NATO leaders discussing ways of keeping the Russlans from blowing the roofs off their heads.

The letter writer identified herself as an old French peasant woman.

"My house is an old farm house whose roof has fallen in," she said. "I have no money for repairs, but I have always told myself that when a Russian leader should come to Paris, I would appeal to him."

"Since Russia is today one of the largest, richest and most powerful nations in the world, it would be nothing for her to send me enough to repair my house."

Her letter, along with the telegram, was forwarded to Bulganin, care of the Kremlin.

More than one-seventh of the Indian population in the United States lives in New Mexico. There are about 60,000 in New Mexico.

Coleman's Was Mistake That Cost Series

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Gerry Coleman played it safe on Eddie Mathews' infielder grounder in the sixth inning of the fifth game of the 1957 World Series. That was a mistake of judgment on the part of the New York Yankee second baseman.

It gave the Milwaukee Braves an opening and they capitalized on it to win 1-0 and take the upper hand over the Yankees, three games to two, and go on from there to take the world championship.

Movies of the series, shown here for the first time yesterday, showed Coleman failed to charge Mathews' grounder and the Braves third sacker beat it out for a hit. So instead of southpaw Whitey Ford being out of the inning, he had to pitch to Hank Aaron with two out, Aaron singled, Joe Adcock also followed with a single to score Mathews with the only run of the game and give Lew Burdette his second victory in the classic.

At the time Coleman blamed himself, saying he should have come in on the grounder instead of waiting for it to come to him. The movies proved he was right.

The pictures also showed Aaron, Braves' outfielder, as proving the hand is quicker than the eye, if not the camera.

The 45-minute film was premiered before an audience that included the heads of the American and National Leagues. The movie records all the scoring plays of the seven games of the series.

DOGS

BY FARLEY MANNING

The 126 breeds and varieties of named dogs sponsored in this country by the American American dog fancy originated in so many lands and climates and periods of history that it is not uncommon to hear either the Boston Terrier or the Chesapeake Bay Retriever referred to as "the only American-made dog."

But there are others. One of the longest in the making is one only recently officially recognized by the American Kennel Club. It is the American Water Spaniel.

What dog was its original American ancestor nobody knows, but it may have been the Spaniel who came over on the Mayflower.

Colonists had hardly more than got foot in Virginia when they began creating American versions of old British hounds. The AKC recognized "purebred" results are the American Foxhound and the black-and-tan Cockerhound.

The Alaskan Malamute is a primitive, existing as a breed before the first white man saw what is now U.S.A. soil. Aboriginal also is the basic Mexican stock which creative American breeders have refined into what is currently this country's most popular toy dog—the Chihuahua. And the Mexican Hairless is pre-Columbian.

America's Staffordshire Terrier is distinct from the English breed of that name. The American Cocker Spaniel has been made distinct from its English cousin, but a definite breed in its own right.

Knocking at the AKC door for official recognition is the "American Toy" or Toy Fox Terrier. Other American breeds are in process of creation. Hound addicts recognize within their peculiar precincts, several special strains.

BOUNTY REMAINS—The National Geographic Society reports that skin divers have located the coral encrusted bulk of the notorious mutiny ship, HMS Bounty, which was burned and sunk off Pitcairn Island in the South Pacific in 1790. Here the discoverer, veteran undersea photographer Luis Marden, examines copper fittings from the ship on the ocean floor. Marden was assisted by Tom Christian, 21-year-old, great-great-grandson of Fletcher Christian, leader of the Bounty mutineers. Photo copyrighted by National Geographic Magazine.

Main Points of Guessing A Deer's Age

By WARREN PAGE Hunting Editor

Of the millions of hunters out for deer this fall, millions minus a few thousand will, when they view their own or their buddy's trophy, decide sagely: "Hal Three points on a side — must be a three year old." No hunting tradition is older than the common and totally cockeyed idea that deer grow a new sprocket each year of life.

The real low-down on guessing mule deer ages from physical characteristics is compiled in a booklet Gil Hunter of the Colorado Game Commission put together. Being a scientifically minded chap as well as a mean hand with rifle and pack horse, Gil went at the age characteristics problem the only right way, by studying over a period of some three years, muleys terminating their careers in his great deer producing state.

Points and sprockets have very little to do with age. It is true that in the 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 year group just over half the bucks have two points on each side and 65 per cent have either one or two points to the antler. But occasionally real old timers, a decade old, have faded back to two pointers; and any time after three seasons the great majority of muley bucks are most likely to be wearing full points to the beam as standard equipment.

Antlers give some guide to age group, but only in terms of the diameter of the main beam an inch or so out from the head. Unless disease or feed conditions have upset the apperance, chances are that an antler taping 90 across comes from a two year old or less; one measuring between .92 and 1.25 in diameter came from a critter between 40 and 62 months old; and a fully mature normal buck, five years old or more will boast a beam diameter of 1.30 and up.

And after six or seven years the better check will also involve appearance of teeth. A deer wears his incisors narrow and short with cups on their inside surfaces, grinds the enamel ridges of his molars down smooth until finally the chewing teeth rise into an eighth of an inch or so above the gums.

Pompey and Hinant Battle to a Draw

CHICAGO (AP)—Yolande Pompey of Trinidad or Clarence Hinant of Miami, who fought a bruising 10-round light heavyweight draw at the Chicago Stadium last night is due for a good bout in the near future.

It depends on the New York bout next month between Yvonne Durrelle and Tony Anthony.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, said today that if Durrelle, a top-ranked contender for Archie Moore's light heavy crown, beats Anthony he may be matched with Pompey in Montreal in February or March.

If Anthony defeats Durrelle, the IBC contemplates an Anthony-Hinant bout in Miami, also in February or March.

Group Seeking Dog Racing at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Dec. 18 (AP)—Milan S. Creighton, Hot Springs insurance executive, has been named president of the Hot Springs Kennel Club, Inc., which is seeking to establish a greyhound racing track here.

Creighton said today the newly formed corporation completed its organization during a 12-hour meeting late yesterday.

Charles S. Harriman of Portland, Ore., associate judge at the Multnomah Kennel Club, was named executive vice president and general manager, and James D. Dows, Hot Springs accountant and real estate man, was named secretary-treasurer.

In addition to the officers, the following were elected to the Board of Directors:

Leon Kuhn of Tekarkana, W. P. Davis of Newport, J. Bruce Street of Camden, J. O. Bennett of Leno, Jim Evans of Hot Springs, and Alex T. Jamieson of Yucca Valley, Calif.

Creighton said corporation officials discussed plans to meet requirements of the state Racing Commission for a temporary franchise, and plans and specifications for a proposed million dollar racing plant.

Hot Springs Kennel Club previously announced that it had secured an option on a site for the track but the location was not disclosed.

After a temporary franchise is granted, Creighton said, the Racing Commission will notify the county election board to hold a county-wide election on the proposed dog racing as required by state law.

In Nevada it is legal to fish any time for cutfish, but it is illegal to fish for any other kind of fish two hours after sunset.

State Plant Warned by Labor Board

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today ordered the I. C. Sutton Handle Factory of Harrison, Ark., to refrain from discouraging union membership among its employees.

The board also ordered I. C. Sutton Sr., operator of the factory to offer Joe Hulsey, allegedly fired for union activity, re-employment and to pay him back wages.

The board upheld a finding of trial examiner Herbert Silberman that Sutton had engaged in unfair labor practices.

Silberman issued the order last Aug. 2 after a hearing on a com-

Christmas Carol Most Famous Story

By CHARLES MERRICK

NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever various things Christmas means to various people, it means "a Christmas Carol" to a great many. Dramatizations of Charles Dickens' story have become a television staple in the Christmas season. Last year, there were at least six TV adaptations. Perhaps we've reached the nostalgic age, but it seems there never was a more convincing Scrooge than the late Lionel Barrymore in his annual radio dramatization.

Although Barrymore is dead, he will be heard again in his familiar role next Sunday on CBS radio.

This is largely thanks to Dailey Paskman, veteran producer, director and writer, who was associated with Barrymore on most of the actor's 17 radio broadcasts of "A Christmas Carol."

The two were close friends while Paskman collaborated with "denr Scrooge," as he called Barrymore, on many songs and adapted several versions of Dickens' story. They tried the story in many ways before finding one that completely satisfied Barrymore. And this is the version that will be heard on CBS radio Sunday.

"I've played many roles in my career," Barrymore once told Paskman, "but if there is one role I really hope to be remembered for, it's that of Ebenezer Scrooge."

The actor began performing "A Christmas Carol" for radio audiences in 1934 and preferred to do it "live" each year. In 1947, however, Paskman persuaded Barrymore to do a tape-recorded performance—frankly, for posterity. Paskman recalls that Barrymore insisted on employing only English actors for this performance.

When Barrymore heard it he remarked: "I wanted to do the best one that I've ever done . . . and I hope this one will be heard for as many years as there are Christmases to come."

Kidnaping Is Top Filmland Story of '57

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Marie McDonald kidnaping, a bizarre chapter in the gaudy history of Hollywood, ranks as the top story in the big 10 news events of the movie world in 1957.

A survey of the year's news gives the nod to The Body, who started the new year with a blast on Jan. 4 by disappearing from her Encino home. Trailing a string of frantic phone calls about kidnapers, she vanished for 24 hours, turning up in the California desert. The case has never been solved.

But apparently Marie's career problems were solved. The headlines propelled her to a comeback, and she reported she has earned $250,000 for singing appearances in TV and night clubs this year. This compares with virtually no earned income in 1956.

The other noteworthy events of 1957:

2. The Confidential magazine trial. Aided by the State of California, Hollywood had its showdown in court with the scandal magazine that has harassed the film famous.

The result was inconclusive: A hung jury. But Hollywood got what it wanted—Confidential's agreement with the state to get out of the scandal business.

3. Another Oscar for Ingrid Bergman. Hollywood demonstrated its disregard for scandal by giving its highest prize to the Swede for her work in "Anastasia."

4. The marriage of Marlon Brando and Anna Kashfi. The wedding was surprise enough. It was followed by more news: her parents' assertion she is not Indian but just plain Joan O'Callaghan, the announcement that Anna was pregnant, reports that the couple had rifted.

5. The marriage of Bing Crosby and Kathy Grant.

6. The death of Humphrey Bogart.

7. The death of Louis B. Mayer.

8. The MGM proxy fight. Insurgent stockholders, irked at the cline of the studio, sought to overturn the management but were defeated.

9. The submerging of RKO. The General Tire interests, who bought the studio from Howard Hughes, sold the two lots to TV tycoon Desi Arnaz at a healthy profit.

10. Decline of the movie business. Not a news event in itself, this was an increasing trend which caused growing concern in Hollywood. Evidence: an ominous shut-down at Universal-International.

plaint lodged by Local 2746, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

The board ruling may be appealed to the courts.

Dulles to Visit Spain's Franco

MADRID, Dec. 18 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles will confer with Generalissimo Franco on his way home from Paris Friday, the U.S. Embassy said today.

The announcement stated Dulles five-hour visit is being made at the invitation of the Spanish government. A statement gave no indication of the subjects to be discussed.

Finds New York Fine Place to Be Sick

By PHYLLIS BATTLE
(Copyright, 1957, By NS)

NEW YORK (INS) — New York is a wonderful city to be sick in. That's partly because, when you're sick in New York, you have a delicious opportunity to lie on your back within penicillin shot of the maddest scramble in America. Which is like that magnificent contentment of snuggling 'neath a blanket while all hail breaks loose on the roof.

But another reason New York is so exhumating for the ill is that Bernie Hubbard lives here.

Bernie is a floral designer for a big, rather costly outfit named Irene Hayes florists, and one of his specialties is sickbeds — and people who happen to habitate therein.

"Would you like," he sympathetically asks friends of the hospital inmate, "our bedpan arrangement, perhaps?"

"Or possibly you would prefer a blanket of minute orchids with an applique of aspirin tablets?" Bernie can do anything.

It all started several years ago when the Hayes horticultural office got an order for "something different" to cheer a victim of tonsillitis or some such thing, in a New York hospital. The person who placed this order was quite healthy, financially, so Bernie put his genius to work.

Having been ill as a child, with tonsillitis or something such thing, he figured that unless there is an incision which makes it devastating to guffaw, a patient needs humor. Also, to remind him that he is not losing his senses altogether, he needs color and odor.

So Bernie Hubbard sent out a bird of paradise, complete with wings, winged collar and tie, and a profusion of flowers for feathers. All this, he grandly perched on a splendid, shiny bedpan.

Word gets around: about things like this (all sick people yak a lot to keep their spirits up), and pretty soon the Hayes Office was buying bedpans in two-dozen lots. "Decorative," explains Hubbard, "and useful later for washing miniature poodles."

Another posy problem he tackled some months later was an entire blanket made of rose petals. By this time, word had spread even further — as the person who rested under the rose coverlet was quite well-known.

Another order came in for a Christmas tree for comedian Joe E. Lewis — a huge fir, trimmed with red ribbon bows and scotch bottles. And from a man who shall remain anonymous, a gift for his girl: A lovely arrangement of anthurium, interwoven with the lacy look of 1,500 new-papery-smelling one dollar bills.

"That was an expensive one," explains Bernie. "We had to go out and buy the money."

Nowadays, he not only does local hospital jobs, but he complies with wire orders from all over the world. Sometimes the wired instructions, for off-beat arrangements, cost more than the flowers themselves... from those who care enough to spend the very best.

He has been advised by wire to: Paint the centers of 2,000 daisies to look like black-eyed susans; construct a 35 foot ladder of pink carnations, with 25 rungs of rolling pins, for a 25th wedding anniversary; and make floral collar and swim-suit corsages for some of the doggiest dogs and women in the world.

SIGN OF PEACE — Battered during the German blitz of World War II, historic St. Bride's Church in London is readied for its reopening after years of disuse. Using pure gold, Glyn Jones paints in the dove of peace which will form the centerpiece above the altar. Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip will rededicate the church this month.

Adenauer Gets Nod to Start Negotiations

By JOHN J. CASSERLY

PARIS (INS) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was represented today as having virtually won NATO's green light for a direct approach to Moscow on disarmament and other problems.

A top Western diplomat said that the 31-year-old chancellor "built the door" for an approach to Moscow during the NATO chiefs of government meeting. He added, "We opened it. Now all he (Adenauer) has to do is to walk through it to the Kremlin."

The diplomat said Adenauer thus far has not told anyone what he intends to do with "the great approval given his views" but there would be "consultative approval" by his colleagues if he wishes to approach Moscow directly on East-West differences.

The diplomat stressed that in his opinion Adenauer has emerged as "the political wiseman" in the NATO talks, a man who has been listened to with great respect on every major issue.

This informant spoke of Adenauer's objections to any flat approval at this time of the American offer to establish missile bases and atomic stockpiles in European nations.

He commented: "The United States made one basic mistake regarding missiles for Europe. The plan was presented in the aura and realm of politics. It should immediately have recognized the political implications for Germany as well as Italy."

"Missile bases will only be accepted on the basis of strategic military necessity. The idea cannot be sold to the people of Europe in any other way but military necessity — not debated in even the same room with political considerations."

This diplomat cited the example of Italy, where elections are approaching, and said that the Communist opposition in Italy could hit hard on the argument that

Tubing Plant Will Move to Conway

CONWAY, Ark., Dec. 18 (AP) — The tubing plant of the Robinson Tube Fabricating Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, will be moved to Conway shortly after Jan. 1. It was announced today by Robert A. McNutt, President of the Conway Chamber of Commerce.

Robinson manufactures precision metal tubing and related products. McNutt said.

Initially 50 persons will be employed. An ultimate payroll of 200 is expected, according to McNutt. A $90,000 building, financed jointly by the Robinson company and McNutt, is being constructed for the operation. McNutt said he had given the company an option to purchase his interest within five years. A 6-acre tract was donated by the Chamber of Commerce. McNutt said.

Missile Units Will Move to Texas

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP) — The Army announced today that two missile units will move to Ft. Hood, Tex., early next year to become part of the 2nd Army Missile Command.

The units, including about 250 men each, are the 60th Field Artillery Rocket Battalion, Ft. Sill, Okla., which is armed with the Honest John Missile, and the 523rd Field Artillery Missile Battalion, Ft. Bliss, Tex., which uses the Corporal missile.

The moves described as routine, are scheduled to begin Feb. 1.

Italy is now a prime target of the Soviet arsenal.

The informant stressed that there was only agreement "in principle" on the U. S. missile plan, that Germany, Italy, and other NATO nations definitely are unwilling to agree on basing missiles in their countries now or in the immediate future.

On the outcome of the NATO conference his diplomat stressed that it would not be any surprise decisions in the final communiqué.

ICC Warns Truckers on 'Hot Cargo'

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today served blunt notice on truckers that they stand to lose their operating permits if they honor "hot cargo" labor clauses.

Without specifically passing upon legality of such clauses, the commission said common carriers under its jurisdiction must not bargain away—through labor contracts—their obligation to serve the public.

The commission's unanimous decision, with all of its 11 members taking part, constituted another of a series of recent setbacks for the Teamsters Union.

The Teamsters have used the "hot cargo" clauses as a potent organizing technique.

Union representatives often merely walk in and tell an employer he must sign a labor contract, or face a refusal of truck lines, having contracts with the union, to handle his shipments.

In its contracts, the union insists upon "hot cargo" clauses. Under them, the employer is forbidden to discharge an employee who refuses to handle goods referred to as "hot cargo."

Such labels often are placed by Teamsters on goods produced or handled at some stage by a non-union firm, or by a firm with which union members are having a dispute.

In Desmond A. Barry, a rugged Texan, the union encountered a fighter.

Barry, as president of Galveston Truck Line Corp., Houston, refused to sign up.

Complying with union demands, nine other truck lines operating out of Oklahoma City, Okla., refused for six weeks in the spring of 1935 to handle cargo delivered to them by Barry's company for transshipment.

In its decision today, the commission said the nine carriers acted unlawfully.

Truckers holding ICC certificates, the commission said, are obligated to accept and transport all freight offered to them in accordance with their published tariffs.

"This duty is almost an absolute one," the commission said. "If the public is to be served adequately, common carriers must be held strictly accountable for their performance."

Plant Contest Winners Are Announced

MEMPHIS, Dec. 18 (AP)—A Tennessee and a Missouri couple tonight won top awards in the Commercial Appeal's 1937 Plant to Prosper Contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell R. English of Gates, Tenn., were announced as winners of the annual landowner sweepstakes prize. And Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Greer of Charleston, Mo., won the tenant sweepstakes award.

The $500 prizes were presented to the couples by Frank R. Ahlgren, editor of the Commercial Appeal, and R. A. Trippier, president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce.

The competition, now in its 24th year, was designed to encourage mid-south farmers to break away from one-crop farming and turn to crop diversification and a live-at-home program.

English and his wife own and operate a 135-acre cotton, livestock, soybean, and grain farm near Gates. The Greers rent a 200-acre cotton, wheat and livestock farm. A Mississippi couple, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Crenshaw of Winona, won the $100 home improvement division sweepstakes.

State winners who received $100 awards included:

Arkansas—Landoner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Norris, of Green Forest; tenant, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Grandgeorge of Stuttgart.

Plaques were presented to four newspapers cited for outstanding support of the Plant to Prosper program. Among them was the Pine Bluff, Ark., Commercial.

Odds Against a White Christmas

LITTLE ROCK, Dec. 18 (AP)—The odds are against a white Christmas at Little Rock.

Walter C. Hickmon, chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau here, said measurable snow has occurred here on Dec. 25 only three times since the weather station was established in 1879. The chances of snow this year are further reduced because warm temperatures are forecast for the next 30 days, he said.

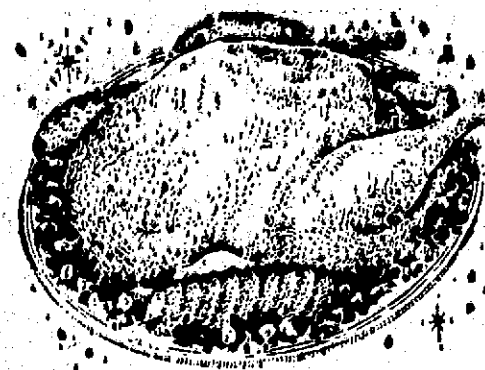

Two and a half inches of snow fell at Little Rock in 1926, one and a half inches in 1913 and one inch in 1897, according to Weather Bureau records. Hickmon said traces of snow were recorded in 1939, 1935, 1918, 1914 and 1887.

The only snow recorded at Little

HAND-PICKED for MURDER

By Robert Martin

After a white Wayne Howell spoke, his voice muffled because his hands were still over his face. "Who?" he said. "Why?"

"I don't know. I found her like that, just now. She was supposed to meet me, but she didn't. So I came here."

"Did you just return from Lakeport?"

"Yes, but—"

"Why wait so long? The library was closed an hour ago."

He took a deep breath and seemed to be fighting for control. "I didn't go to the library. All right what you told me, I didn't know what to do. I just drove around for a while. I don't know how long. Then I went to the Harbor House, in the bar, and I had ginger ale. I tried to think things out. I wanted to ask her if what you said was true, but I—I hated to do it. Finally I decided to have it out with her, make her tell the truth."

"Then you believed me?"

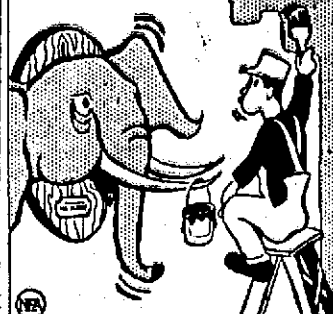

He nodded helplessly. "Yes, I—I didn't want to, but I had to. There have been other things. Little lies I caught her in. I—I covered his face again and began to sob, like a child, a pitiful sight."

"Wayne," I began, and stepped. I had the sudden queer sensation that someone was watching me, or maybe it was a small sound. I turned quickly to face the porch.

A voice said, "Hello, Mr. Bennett." The screen door opened and Honey Campbell stepped to the porch. She gazed straight at me, her eyes never wavering toward the chair on the dark end of the porch. She couldn't see Wayne Howell sitting behind me in the living room. But he had heard her, I knew, because his sobbing stopped abruptly. I didn't look around. I was watching Honey Campbell.

"Hello," I said, and stepped aside. She came straight across the porch into the cottage. I turned, saw that she was again wearing the white shorts and the thin yellow sweater. Wayne Howell was on his feet and staring at her with a shocked expression. "Wayne," she said sharply, "what's wrong?" He mumbled something and lowered his head, his heavy shoulders shaking, and Honey said, "What?" in the same sharp voice.

Matter of FACT

I left them then and returned to the porch. Wayne had folded the robe over Sandra's body. The handle of the ice pick made a little tent over her left breast. I turned and started back in, met Honey Campbell in the doorway. She stared at me for a second, and then moved swiftly to the porch. I stepped inside. Wayne watched me silently, his face constricted. Then it came from the porch, low at first and rising fast, a scream of terror. I jerked my head at Wayne. "Take care of her." It might help if he had something to do, I thought, and I had no desire to nurse a woman with hysterics.

I picked up the phone, asked the operator to get me the sheriff's office. While I waited, Wayne came in carrying the limp form of Honey Campbell. He didn't look at me, but kicked open a bedroom door and went inside, leaving the door half open. A man's voice said in my ear, "Sheriff's Department."

I made it fast—who when, where. He got excited at first, and then calmed down and became quite efficient and brisk. I answered a couple of questions about the location of the cottage and he said, "Stay there, mister. We'll be right out." The phone banged in my ear.

A light had come on in the bedroom. Wayne had placed Honey on a bed and was bending over her. I lifted the phone again and asked for Chief of Police Campbell, in Lakeport. He answered almost immediately. "Chief," I said, "this is Bennett."

"Yes?" He sounded tired.

I told him and ended by saying, "I called the sheriff."

"Good," he said crisply. "He can handle it. . . . An ice pick, you say?"

"Another ice pick. Aren't you coming out?"

"I'm alone and can't leave here. Anyway, it's a county job. I'll talk to the sheriff in the morning."

"All right. I just thought you'd want to know—since it seems to be in with the murder of Ambrose Lott."

"Not necessarily," he said. I let that ride and said, "Chief, there's something else."

"What?" he snapped.

"Your daughter is here, too. She arrived right after I found the body."

"Honey? What's she doing out there?"

"I'm assuming that she wanted to see young Howell."

"Bennett, do me a favor; see that she gets home."

"I will—if the sheriff will let me."

"What do you mean?"

"Chief," I said gently, "this is murder. Your daughter—"

"She had nothing to do with it!" His voice was faintly shrill. "I'm sure she didn't!" I said soothingly, and changed the subject. "How's Hugo Howell behaving tonight?"

"Oh, Howell . . . He's asleep."

I replaced the phone and looked up to see Wayne Howell standing in the bedroom doorway. He looked at me, and the muscles along his firm jaw knotted tightly. "This is all your fault," he said in a low intense voice, "and my father's. He hated Sandra, tried to come between us. And you helped him. Like the others he hired. And now she's dead. I hope you're satisfied."
